

SPS Corporation

Our Company

SPS Corporation is the organisation behind some of the leading companies servicing the Australasian Picture Framing, Recreational Vehicle and Accommodation industries.

SPS Corporation is a wholly Australian-owned family business, its origins can be traced back to Melbourne in 1966 when Founders, Pat and Rosa Schiavello, began a small business milling timber components for a handful of local furniture manufacturers. Today, SPS Corporation operates some of the leading companies in their respective industries, including Perfect Wood Moulding Pty Ltd, NCE Pty Ltd, Antons Mouldings Pty Ltd, and Bellini Moulding Pty Ltd. This multi-faceted group of companies enjoy outstanding reputations and unique positions within their respective markets.

There are a number of synergies that tie our trading companies together. Whilst diverse in nature, our Caravan and Picture Frame Moulding businesses each share a core product in timber, accessed through the same international supply lines. European influences factor strongly in design, which sits at the heart of art and framing and also drives product development for the Recreation Vehicle industry.

SPS Corporation has substantial scale with its head office based in Melbourne, at its state-of-the-art 15,000 square metre facility. Our mature sales, marketing and distribution operations enjoy a strong national presence, supported by a network of direct warehousing and distribution facilities located in Brisbane, Sydney, Perth, Adelaide, Hobart and Melbourne.

SPS Corporations' participation in an extensive range of product categories, coupled with our strong and diversified customer network, underpin our position as a market leading supplier of products to the Australasian Picture Framing, Recreational Vehicle and Accommodation Industries.

Directors and Management

The dynamic nature of SPS Corporation is reflected in its organisational structure. Regional offices have been established across Australia to provide customers with localised service. SPS Corporation's Australian and international operations share a common Board of Directors and Executive Management Team, creating a consistent vision and direction across the Group.

SPS Corporation's true strength is its people. Our success is testament to the commitment and dedication of our skilled management team. By focusing on design, sourcing, marketing and advertising, the company has been able to achieve strong and consistent annual growth.

SPS Corporation is committed to strong corporate governance principals.

The Board meets regularly, and in conjunction with the Executive Management Team, ensure the integrity of financial reporting and control frameworks, as well as managing risk and compliance with regulations. The needs of stakeholders are recognised, including those of shareholders, staff, financiers, customers, suppliers and the community.

Independent business consulting is provided to the Board via a long standing relationship by recognised business advisory firm, Pitcher Partners. The Group's financial statements and related control procedures are subject to annual independent audit.

These governance principals underpin the corporate culture of SPS Corporation.

Perfect Wood Moulding

Perfect Wood Moulding is the original trading company of the SPS Group... the one that started it all!

Since its inception in 1966, PWM has facilitated the timber milling and finishing manufacturing operation for the Group. Over the past six decades, PWM has been a major manufacturer of architectural timber components and finished products to the Australian Picture Framing, Recreational Vehicle, Furniture Manufacturing and Building industries.

With the majority of SPS Corporation's manufacturing requirements now conducted offshore, the role of the PWM company within the SPS Group has evolved. Today, the PWM company continues to retain an integral role within the organisation, facilitating the sourcing and importation of all plywood, structural timber and related timber products for the group.

Our Values

In essence, we are a proud Australian-owned family business; our ethics and our values are at the core of everything we do; they underpin our business strategy, are measured in our performance management system and guide our daily thoughts, actions and decisions. We all aspire to model these behaviours everyday.

Throughout the journey of SPS Corporation and since its inception in 1966, a commitment to family and community has remained firmly at its core. The integrity of the wider SPS Corporation has grown with these values as a binding agent. They remain a true motivation for the team collectively.

Unity - work as one winning team, collaborate

Commitment - do it wholeheartedly or not at all

Innovation - to lead the way, explore, dare to try

Speed - be there first, do it, don't wait

Accountability - do what you say, take responsibility

We are proud of what SPS has become; it may not be the small family business Rosa and I started 50 years ago, but it is still a family business. As we look back from this time in our lives, for us it is clear the principles we built the family business upon mirror those in life - self respect and the respect of others, honesty, hard work, health and commitment to family... achieve this and you will be successful in business and enjoy a long, happy life.
